Democratic Union State Convention

At a recent meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee it was unanimously resolved, in pursuance of the meetings and usages of the party, that the delegates to the Indiana Democratic State Convention at Indianapolis next month be held on Wednesday, the EIGHTEENTH DAY OF JANUARY, 1862, to take into consideration the condition of the country and adopt such action in regard to the nomination of candidates for State offices, to be selected October next, as may be deemed advisable. The Committee decided as a basis of representation in the Convention, that each county should be entitled to one delegate for every two hundred and fifty votes cast against Mr. LINCOLN at the Presidential election of 1860, and one additional delegate for every fraction of one hundred and twenty-five votes and over. The Committee cordially invite all citizens of Indiana to participate in the election of delegates to the Convention, and to take part in its proceedings, who are opposed to the political policy of the present Administration—all who are in favor of the re-establishment of the Union as it was and the supremacy of the Constitution as made by the fathers of the Republic. By order of the Committee,

N. R. PALMER, Chairman.

The Convention To-day—Its Importance.

The Convention will be held in Metropolitan Hall, and will be called to order at 10 o'clock by N. R. PALMER, Esq., Chairman of the State Central Committee.

Cards of admission will be issued equal to the capacity of the Hall, first to the regular delegates and the balance to the contingent delegates and visitors in equal proportion to the several counties.

The regular delegates will occupy the parquette and dress circle; and, for convenience of consultation, the Convention will be arranged by Congressional Districts.

H. D. DODD, Esq., will act as Marshal, with authority to appoint a sufficient number of Assistant to preserve order and facilitate the business of the Convention.

The cards of admission can be procured at the Sentinel office until 10 o'clock this morning; after which time they can be obtained at the Hall.

In order to advance the business of the Convention as rapidly as possible the delegates from the several counties are requested to have their credentials ready to be handed in promptly immediately upon the organization of the Convention, in order that the important committees may be appointed as early as possible and set to work.

A large number of delegates had arrived last evening and the Convention promises to be the largest assembly of the kind ever convened in the State, as in action, if harmonious, will be the most important. While there are some extremists, the great body of the delegates express the most conservative sentiments and the utmost devotion to the Constitution and the Union. The object of all is the preservation, not the destruction of our institutions, we also believe in upholding the principles, while abhorring the whole of the superfluous improvements reflect the highest credit upon the firm to whom was intrusted the furnishing of the mansion. The President's room has also been newly furnished with green silk brocade. The diplomatic dining room has also received similar attention in the matter of refurnishing, &c.

The guest room in which Prince Albert Edward was received on his last visit to this country has been fitted up in the elegant Paris style. The curtains are of royal purple silk, trimmed with rich gold broidery and tassels. The carpet is a heavy Wilton. The furniture is of the richest carved rosewood. The paper-hangings correspond with the balance of room, giving the whole a regal appearance. The design is Mr. Carter's, and displays a taste of the most recherche character. The entire ground-work is composed of bouquets and wreaths of flowers and fruit.

The curtains are of rich crimson satin, trimmed with gold fringe and tassels.

The lace curtains were designed and made in Switzerland expressly for this room. They are precisely the same design as the hanging in Louis Philippe's reception room in the Tuilleries. The whole room now presents a more gorgeous appearance than it has ever done, and it rivals in appearance perhaps any similar apartment in the world.

The green room has a carpet of the same design as that of the east room. The curtains and paper-hangings have been renewed.

The blue room has also been newly papered and carpeted and new coverings put on the furniture. The windows have been newly curtained with brocade and lace.

Next comes the crimson room, which is Mrs. Lincoln's principal reception room. This has been entirely newly furnished. The furniture covering is magnificent.

The window curtains, carpet and paper-hangings correspond with the elegancy of the apartment. In this room is also a grand action piano forte from Philadelphia. The hall and stairways have also been newly carpeted and decorated.
